REPORT ON CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATIONS

INTRODUCTORY REMARKS

The continued efforts of the department to secure information concerning co-operative societies for publication in the Annual Report on Organization in Industry, Commerce and the Professions in Canada has resulted in the building up of so extensive a list of such bodies that it has been decided to include them in a separate report. This, therefore, is the First Report on Co-operative Associations in Canada and gives a fair indication of the development of the co-operative movement in the Dominion, especially in regard to the co-operative marketing of products. Appearing first in the list of associations is the name of the Co-operative Union of Canada, a Dominion-wide organization which was formed in 1909 with a view to federating co-operative bodies and to propagate co-operative principles, and with which 26 societies are now in affiliation.

The first section of the report contains the names of associations whose members are engaged in fruit and vegetable growing, located in six provinces, some of which are province-wide and have large memberships, the one with the greatest number of members being the Associated Growers of British Columbia, with 2,800; next as to members is the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, with 2,116; the United Fruit Companies of Nova Scotia has 2,000 members, and the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association is fourth with 940 members.

Six provinces are also represented in the dairying group, three of the associations being provincial and the remainder mostly local bodies. The affiliates of the Federated Farmers' Co-operative Society of the Province of Quebec which are identified with dairying are included in this group. The Quebec society has 10,000 members, comprised in 300 local branches, the whole being divided into several departments; the remaining branches of the society will be found in their appropriate sections. The association with the largest following is the Alberta Co-operative Dairy Producers, Limited, which has 6,500 members; next comes the Saskatchewan Co-operative Creameries, Limited, the object of which is to construct, acquire, maintain and operate creameries, butter factories and cold storage plants, with 6,450 members; Manitoba Co-operative Dairies, Limited, has 3,012 members, the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association, a British Columbia organization, standing fourth with 2,750 members.

Eight provinces are represented in the live stock and allied associations' group in which is included the United Live Stock Growers, the membership of which comprises the shareholders of the United Grain Growers, which number 35,000. For the Maritime Provinces there is a Co-operative Live Stock Marketing Board with a membership of 8,000. Prince Edward Island has a co-operative Egg and Poultry Association with 3,702 members, and for the provinces of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick there is the Maritime Co-operative Egg and Poultry Exchange, among the objects of which is the storing of poultry and eggs when necessary to prevent demoralization of the local market and to provide for market needs during seasons of short production. This association has 2,000 members in 88 egg circles. In the province of Quebec there are a number of local societies whose members are interested in cattle, sheep, swine and poultry, all of which are affiliated with the Federated Farmers' Co-operative Society of Quebec. The Central Live Stock Co-operative, which operates in the three prairie provinces, has 27,000 contract signers, while for the same provinces there is the Western Canada Live Stock Shippers' Association with 200 members. Both Manitoba and Alberta have associations of live stock producers, those in the last-named province being brought together in a central body having 15,000 members. Saskatchewan has a Live Stock Co-operaive Marketing Association, with a membership of 9,546, and in Alberta there are a number of local bodies of a similar character, but for which complete information was not available. The province of Manitoba has a Co-operative Poultry Marketing Association with 9,903 members, among the objects of the organization being to reduce the spread in the price paid by the consumer of poultry and eggs and the price received by the producers with a view to securing for the producer a larger share of the selling price of his products. The Saskatchewan Co-operative Poultry Producers, which is also a marketing organization, has a membership of 18,703. The two last-mentioned producers' organizations in 1927 formed what is known as the Canadian Co-operative Poultry Marketing Association, with head office in Regina and sales department in Winnipeg, the latter handling exclusively the selling of the entire product of both provinces. It is believed by the promoters of the association that by getting away from the competition which existed through having Manitoba and Saskatchewan selling against each other on the same markets that considerable saving will be possible. Arrangements have also been made for the purchase of all supplies for both provinces jointly with a view to increasing the purchasing power. The similar body in Alberta reported 4,750 members. The British Columbia societies in this group consist of a provincial live stock exchange, stock breeders, etc., all of the memberships reported being small.

The group under the heading of "Grain" contains the names of associations interested in grain growing and marketing, chief of which is the Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers, Limited, which embraces 147,958 members comprised in the Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta Wheat Pools. The latter pool was the first organized (1923), followed by Saskatchewan and Manitoba, the three pools in 1924 organizing the central selling agency, which is known as the Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers, with headquarters in Winnipeg. An iron-clad five-year contract, which has stood the test of the courts and is legally enforceable, is an essential feature of the Pools. This contract binds the farmer to deliver during the term of the contract all the wheat grown by him except registered seed wheat. From the proceeds of the sale of wheat the pool may deduct one per cent of the gross selling price for a commercial reserve, and may deduct an additional two cents per bushel for the purchase of elevators and facilities for the handling of grain. In the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool there are really three units—(a) Saskatchewan Co-operative Wheat Producers, Limited, the parent body; (b) Saskatchewan Pool Elevators, Limited, a subsidiary company formed for the purpose of owning and operating country elevators, and (c) Saskatchewan Pool Terminals, Limited, formed for the purpose of operating terminal elevators, the membership of the two last named being the same as that for the parent body, viz., 84,000. The president and secretary of the Wheat Pool occupy similar positions in the two subsidiary companies. The three provincial pools delivered 179,950,242 bushels of wheat, or 53.6 per cent of the total inspections for the year in the western inspection division, to the central selling agency during the crop year of 1926-27. The carry-over from the 1925 crop was 10,319,764 bushels and for the 1926 wheat crop 7,418,971 bushels. The total wheat deliveries to the central agency in 1925-26 were 187,970,000, and in 1924-25, 81,670,000 bushels. In 1923-24 the Alberta Pool handled 34,219,000 bushels. The central selling agency also sold 21,161,000 bushels of coarse grains for Manitoba and Saskatchewan Pools in 1926-27, and 25,160,000 in 1925-26. In round numbers the wheat acreage under contract to the three pools for the past three years was as follows: 1924-25, 10,700,000; 1925-26, 14,000,000; 1926-27, 15,500,000. The combined elevator and commercial reserve of the three pools now stands at approximately $15,000,000. The three pools now operate 942 country elevators (912 of which are owned by the pools), with a total capacity of considerably over 30,000,000 bushels, and ten terminal elevators with a total capacity of 23,000,000 bushels. In addition two new terminal elevators, at Vancouver and Port Arthur, with a combined capacity of 9,500,000 bushels, are under construction, and will be ready to handle the 1928 crop. The Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers shipped grain to 24 countries through 60 ports during 1926-27, exporting directly over 124,000,000 bushels. The pool's largest customers, in the order named, were: Great Britain, Italy, Holland, Germany, Belgium, France and Japan. The amount of pool wheat taken by these countries varied from 50,000,000 imported by Great Britain to 6,500,000 imported by Japan. The United Grain Growers, Limited, is a share company with an authorized capital of $5,000,000 divided into shares of $25 each. There are, as previously stated, 35,000 shareholders grouped in 347 local associations. Among the objects of the "United" are to produce, manufacture, import, export, buy, sell, deal in and deal with all cereals, fruit, vegetables, animal or other products of the farm. Operating offices are located at Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon, Calgary, Edmonton, Fort William and Port Arthur, besides which the company conducts country elevators at nearly four hundred points in the three western provinces. The Manitoba Pool Elevators, Limited, which is designed to handle grain at cost to the members, of which there are 7,702, has in affiliation many local co-operative elevator associations at various points in the province. A large number of the associations appearing in this group in 1927 were located in the province of Saskatchewan, but the Registrar of Co-operative Associations for Saskatchewan in making a return for 1928 stated that such societies were not made up of grain growers. The associations in question were organized through the efforts of the former Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association, an educational organization, hence the words "Grain Growers" in their names. The operations of the associations ranging from buying and selling carlot goods to managing stores, their names are transferred to the miscellaneous section of this report. Most of the local branches of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association are now out of existence, their places having been taken by lodges of the United Farmers of Canada, which is an amalgamation of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association and the Farmers' Union of Canada.

The first association appearing in the miscellaneous section is the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers, a Dominion-wide organization, with 12,000 members in 30 affiliated bodies, the object of which is to market wool at cost to the farmers. During the 1927 season the association handled a total of 4,895,693 pounds of wool, of which 1,247,439 pounds were brought forward from 1926. It was stated that the number of sheep and lambs in Canada in 1927 was 3,262,000 as compared with 3,142,000 in 1926. In addition to the above-named organization the Federated Farmers' Co-operative Society of the province of Quebec has in affiliation seven local co-operative wool marketing societies whose names are recorded in this section, as are also those of its affiliates which are interested in fishing, lime and stone, etc. The Maritime United Farmers' Co-operative Company besides the co-operative buying of supplies for its members distributes commodities to the public through a number of retail grocery and drygoods stores. Given a place in the report is the Co-operative People's Banks (Caisses Populaires), a credit and savings movement which was founded in Quebec in 1901 by Commander Alphonse Desjardins, and which has developed to such an extent that there are now 175 of such co-operative banking associations operating in the province. There are also in the province endowment funds and provident funds established under the same principles, four of the first named being for young girls and five provident funds for young men. This group also contains the name of the Alberta Provincial Association of Credit Societies, a body with 1,300 shareholders in 35 societies, which is operating under the provisions of the Co-operative Credit Act, and which among other things is designed to act as the intermediary between the members of affiliated societies and the department in charge of the act. In Ontario the co-operative with the largest membership is the United Farmers' Co-operative Company, Limited, which has 21,000 shareholders. To facilitate the shipment of grain by water or rail the grain shippers have established the Lake Shippers' Clearance Association, the name of which, although no return was made for 1928, is given a place in the report. The remainder of the associations included in this group are local bodies whose members are raisers of various products, who besides co-operatively marketing their produce purchase co-operatively the supplies which they require, while a number of the associations are formed for the purpose of providing halls for community purposes. In the miscellaneous group are printed the names of nearly three hundred associations in the province of Saskatchewan, in some of which the words "Grain Growers" appear in the titles, but for the reasons previously stated their names are included in this section. In the Alberta list will be found some societies which operate as branches of the United Farmers of Alberta, an organization which has a strong following.

In a subsequent section of the report will be found a table showing the financial transactions of a large number of the co-operatives. This being the first occasion on which an effort has been made to secure such information, it is considered that the showing is fairly creditable.

There are 1,085 names of co-operative associations published in the report, 26 of which are affiliated with the Co-operative Union of Canada; of these 20 made reports and their names are accordingly included in their appropriate sections; the remaining six, however, are computed in the grand total. A few associations failed to make returns. Their names, however, are given places in the report, the membership figures in such cases being printed in italics. The following statement, which is arranged by groups, shows the number of co-operatives in each province, together with the respective memberships, the grand total of which is 460,133.

DIRECTORY OF CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATIONS

The directory of co-operative associations printed hereunder is believed to be the most complete yet presented in any Canadian publication, and while most of these bodies are engaged in the ordinary co-operative business of selling or buying and distributing supplies, the scope of some are much wider, and in these cases the objects are outlined. The courtesy of the Inspector of Co-operatives of Quebec, the Secretary of the Manitoba Co-operative Marketing Board, the Acting Co-operative and Marketing Commissioner of Saskatchewan, the Registrar of Companies of Alberta, and the Secretary of the Department of Agriculture of British Columbia in supplying lists of co-operative societies in their respective provinces assisted materially in the preparation of the report. It is claimed that the Western Canadian Wheat Pools is the world's largest wheat marketing organization. The chief objects of the Wheat Pools are: (1) to promote, foster and encourage the business of growing and marketing wheat co-operatively; (2) to eliminate speculation in wheat; (3) to stabilize the wheat market; (4) to improve in every legitimate way the interests of wheat growers.

Maritime United Farmers' Co-operate Company—

This body was organized and incorporated in 1918 for the purpose of the co-operative wholesale buying of seeds, fertilizers, feeds, etc., for its members; and also for the cheaper distribution of commodities to the public by the establishment of retail grocery and dry goods stores in 31 centres, 25 of which are still operating.

According to a statement furnished the Department, the promoters of this company found that it could not adequately function unless the form of organization was somewhat altered. Due to its original system (operating the whole organization under one charter) the manufacturers refused to give jobbers' prices on the commodities purchased. This was owing to the opposition of the retailers and wholesale houses in claiming that the association was a retail organization. Because of the situation thus created it was found necessary in 1922 to reorganize the company by getting a charter for each individual store unit and then organizing a buying agency, known as the Eastern Brokers, Limited, to act as a central purchasing body for the above-mentioned store units. The headquarters of the Eastern Brokers, Limited, are at Fredericton, N.B., and the general manager is J. G. Kirkpatrick.

Co-operative People's Banks (Caisses Populaires)—

This co-operative credit and savings movement was founded in the province of Quebec by Commander Alphonse Desjardins, who, after many years' study of the subject, decided, with the co-operation of a few friends, to establish in Levis a co-operative bank, known as the People's Bank of Levis (La Caisse Populaire de Levis), which commenced to function in January, 1901. With the success of this bank the movement developed until there are now 175 such co-operative banking associations operating in the province under the Quebec Co-operative Syndicate Act, with a membership of 36,298. As yet there is no official central organization. Rev. J. R. Trudel, of St. Marc de Shawinigan, is in charge of the general direction of the movement. Rev. P. Grondin, Levis College, Levis, being its propagandist.

The province is divided into regional districts, each with its own president and secretary, these, together with the number of co-operative banks in each region, being as follows:—
